

TClâ??s Golden Formula won the best plant-based functional product of the year

04 January 2022 | News

In recent years, there has been a global trend of plant-based health care, which is known as vegetarian food in&nbsp;Taiwan. In the World Plant-Based Awards, jointly organized by FoodBev Media and Plant-Based World Expo & Conference, TClâ??s Golden Formula won the best plant-based functional product of the year&nbsp;and is expected to win in the European and the US probiotic markets.

TClâ??s exclusive prebiotics contain fructooligosaccharides, inulin, and the patented IBD raw material: kiwifruit enzyme

In recent years, there has been a global trend of plant-based health care, which is known as vegetarian food in Taiwan. In the World Plant-Based Awards, jointly organized by FoodBev Media and Plant-Based World Expo & Conference, TClâ??s Golden Formula won the best plant-based functional product of the year and is expected to win in the European and the US probiotic markets.

Prebiotics are the key to influencing the intestinal bacterial environment. TClâ??s prebiotics helps the growth of Parabacteroides goldsteinii (PG) in the intestine, adjusting intestinal bacteria, improving leaky gut, reducing fat, and helping with bowel movements.

The World Plant-Based Awards are an annual award for the worldâ??s leading plant-based food industry. There are 15 awards, including best meat alternative and best milk alternative. Among them, the best plant-based functional product is the only award that honors outstanding plant-based products in the field of contemporary health food. The jury considered 110 entries from 20 countries. TClâ??s Golden Formula was selected as the first winner of the award in Taiwan, and has received widespread attention and inquiries from brands in the health care field in Europe and the US. It is expected to expand TClâ??s business opportunities in the probiotic market in Europe and the US.