Conestoga Meat Packers is all set to expand its pork processing capacity at its Breslau facility by 86% with an investment from the Ontario Government in Canada.

Granted through the government's Jobs and Prosperity Fund, the C$5.3m ($4.3m) investment is expected to increase productivity and create nearly 170 new jobs at the Breslau facility

Conestoga Meat Packers is all set to expand its pork processing capacity at its Breslau facility by 86% with an investment from the Ontario Government in Canada.

Granted through the government's Jobs and Prosperity Fund, the C$5.3m ($4.3m) investment is expected to increase productivity and create nearly 170 new jobs at the Breslau facility.

The investment will be used by Conestoga to purchase new equipment that will almost double its meat processing capacity.

Arnold Drung, President, Conestoga Meat Packers said, "This investment will help Conestoga build a state-of-the-art processing facility facilitating more high-quality product for markets in Canada and around the world."

"This will solidify the future for our 157 Ontario farmer owners and their families as well as our 900 employees. The expansion provides the opportunity for future growth both in volume processed as well as people employed", he added.

The Jobs and Prosperity Fund has been created by the government to help companies to secure private sector investment in Ontario, and allow the government to partner with businesses that are creating jobs and enhancing productivity, innovation and exports in the region.
