

Grants open for wine and cider producers in Australia

08 August 2023 | News

The program provides funding of up to $100,000 to wineries and cellar door operators who grow and promote agri-tourism

The program provides funding of up to $100,000 to wineries and cellar door operators who grow and promote agri-tourism

Applications for the fifth round of Australia's Wine Tourism and Cellar Door Grants program are now open for wine and cider producers.

The program provides funding of up to $100,000 to wineries and cellar door operators who grow and promote agri-tourism, largely in regional Australia.

Paul Denny, Assistant Secretary for Food Policy said Australian wine producers continue to demonstrate the success of locally grown and manufactured products.

"Our wine is some of the most sought after in the world and makes a significant contribution to our economy and regional Australia's agricultural industry," Denny said.

"While it has been a tough few years for some parts of Australia's wine industry, our winemakers and cellar door operators are highly resilient. Providing support to our wine industry will continue to help the local economy and agriculture."

Application submissions are open until 30 September 2023.

To apply for the grant and for more information on the program, visit: <https://www.wineaustralia.com/wine-tourism-and-cellar-door-grants>