Franch-based Worldline, a global leader in payment services, and Tabesto, a major actor in order-taking and payment solutions within the restaurant industry, are announcing the launch of the first all-in-one ordering and payment kiosk, using SoftPOS – Worldline Tap on Mobile – technology. This collaboration combines Worldline’s extensive payment expertise with Tabesto’s proficiency in kiosk development to deliver a unique customer experience.

With a payment application embedded into the Tabesto application environment, the 'FOX' ordering and payment kiosk integrates and becomes a payment terminal. Equipped with an NFC sensor at the bottom of the screen, FOX enables acceptance of payments via contactless bank cards or with a PIN code on the screen, meal vouchers, or NFC-enabled e-wallets.

Available in 36 countries, this solution significantly reduces customer wait times and offers a new ordering experience to consumers. By reducing traditional equipment such as ticket printers and payment terminals, Worldline and Tabesto support restaurant and retail operators in simplifying their operational management, reducing associated costs, and optimising their carbon footprint.

By reinventing the ordering experience, Worldline and Tabesto are committed to supporting the digital transformation of the restaurant and retail sectors to cater to the needs of both consumers and merchants.
