NFFOODS Spectrum
perspectives on food technologies & business
ASIA

Vital Proteins Debuts Collagen Creamers

03 November 2017 | News

Vital Proteinsâ?? latest debut is bringing collagen into the coffee aisle. The new Collagen Creamers made with organic coconut milk contain only clean, simple ingredients—each serving packing 10g of collagen, healthy fats, and naturally-sourced spices. Shelf-stable and convenient, these powdered creamers are a dairy-free addition to coffee, tea, or any food or drink that could use a creamy protein boost.   Vital Proteinsâ?? Collagen Creamers come in natural Coconut, Vanilla, and Gingerbread flavors with only 1 gram of sugar and 140 calories per serving. Each creamer boasts 10 grams of pure collagen protein adding full-body benefits for healthy hair, skin, nails, joints, and bones. Organic coconut milk provides 9 grams of healthy fats from naturally-sourced MCTs to help improve heart health, aid in increased exercise endurance, and support energy production.   "We know that our customers love adding collagen to their coffee or tea each morning, so adding Collagen Creamers to the collection just seemed like a natural next step," explained Vital Proteins CEO and Founder, Kurt Seidensticker. "And by making them dairy-free and gluten-free, weâ??re able to keep simple, clean ingredients at the core of our whole food philosophy."

The dairy-free offering provides 10g of collagen protein per serving.

Vital Proteinsâ?? latest debut is bringing collagen into the coffee aisle. The new Collagen Creamers made with organic coconut milk contain only clean, simple ingredients—each serving packing 10g of collagen, healthy fats, and naturally-sourced spices. Shelf-stable and convenient, these powdered creamers are a dairy-free addition to coffee, tea, or any food or drink that could use a creamy protein boost.

Vital Proteinsâ?? Collagen Creamers come in natural Coconut, Vanilla, and Gingerbread flavors with only 1 gram of sugar and 140 calories per serving. Each creamer boasts 10 grams of pure collagen protein adding full-body benefits for healthy hair, skin, nails, joints, and bones. Organic coconut milk provides 9 grams of healthy fats from naturally-sourced MCTs to help improve heart health, aid in increased exercise endurance, and support energy production.

"We know that our customers love adding collagen to their coffee or tea each morning, so adding Collagen Creamers to the collection just seemed like a natural next step," explained Vital Proteins CEO and Founder, Kurt Seidensticker. "And by making them dairy-free and gluten-free, weâ??re able to keep simple, clean ingredients at the core of our whole food philosophy."