

DHL Global Forwarding announces Nicholas Bongsosartono as President and Director for Indonesia

15 July 2024 | News

Bongsosartono will drive growth, improve operational efficiency, and deliver service excellence to customers in the Indonesian market

Bongsosartono will drive growth, improve operational efficiency, and deliver service excellence to customers in the Indonesian market

DHL Global Forwarding, the freight specialist of DHL Group, has appointed Nicholas Bongsosartono as the new President and Director of DHL Global Forwarding Indonesia. Based in Jakarta, Bongsosartono will report to Thomas Tieber, CEO of DHL Global Forwarding, Southeast Asia and South Pacific.

In this new position, Bongsosartono will drive growth, improve operational efficiency, and deliver service excellence to customers in the Indonesian market.

"Indonesia represents one of the dynamic markets in the region, with an expected GDP growth of 5.1 per cent this year. We are delighted that we have managed to promote internally, a testament to our dedication to nurturing talent and providing opportunities for our employees to thrive and excel in their roles.

Nicholas's knowledge of the market and our business will play a pivotal role in strengthening our position in Indonesia and delivering reliable and sustainable logistics solutions to our customers. His extensive experience across various aspects of the logistics industry, including air and ocean freight, inland transpiration, customs brokerage, as well as contract logistics, makes him well-suited for this leadership position," says Thomas Tieber, CEO of DHL Global Forwarding Southeast Asia and South Pacific.