DREO's new milk frother allows coffee lovers to achieve the most exquisite frothy milk at home effortlessly

DREO, a leader in smart home innovation, announced the launch of DREO BaristaMaker, the most professional smart milk frother capable of creating latte art with all types of milk. This revolutionary device is set to take home coffee and creative drink-making to the next level, delivering barista-quality microfoam at the touch of a button. DREO BaristaMaker will be available on Kickstarters starting on August 13th, with a Super Early Bird offer of up to 30 per cent off the suggested retail price of $99.

DREO hosted an exclusive launch event in New York City, where industry experts and top-tier media experienced the BaristaMaker Frother firsthand. Experts were impressed by its innovative features, intuitive design, and ability to create microfoam for latte art. Reviews of this impressive machine are eagerly anticipated!

With a unique blend of food science and barista mastery, DREO's new milk frother allows coffee lovers to achieve the most exquisite frothy milk at home effortlessly. DREO BaristaMaker is the culmination of extensive research, patented impeller combo design, and tailored algorithms meticulously developed to replicate the technique of professional baristas. After thousands of simulations mimicking the frothing process of expert baristas in their Beverage R&D Lab, DREO has developed a milk frother capable of emulating the froth quality found in commercial coffee shops, surpassing the capabilities of most traditional, off-the-shelf home frothers with unmatched froth quality and texture.
