

Cuzen Matcha introduces commercial matcha machine

06 May 2025 | News

Featuring two mill units, this machine can produce two fresh, vibrant matcha shots in just 40 seconds

Featuring two mill units, this machine can produce two fresh, vibrant matcha shots in just 40 seconds

Cuzen Matcha, a leader in the freshly ground matcha market, unveiled the Cuzen Matcha Maker Pro. This cutting-edge commercial-use matcha machine is designed to elevate the matcha-making process, offering cafes, restaurants, hotels, and corporate environments a delicious, more efficient, and higher-quality way to serve matcha with precision and consistency.

With the global matcha market projected to grow to $8 billion by 2033¹, Cuzen Matcha is addressing the exploding demand by introducing the Cuzen Matcha Maker Pro. Featuring two mill units, this machine can produce two fresh, vibrant matcha shots in just 40 seconds, ensuring that busy establishments can meet high-volume demand without compromising quality.

“Matcha is known for its unique balance of caffeine and L-theanine, providing sustained energy and focus without the crash associated with coffee. But until now, producing matcha at a high volume with consistency and excellence has been a challenge,” said Eijiro Tsukada, Founder and CEO of Cuzen Matcha. “The Cuzen Matcha Maker Pro simplifies the process and ensures each matcha shot is as fresh and flavorful as possible. It is a perfect solution for high-end cafes looking to distinguish themselves in a saturated market and employers wanting to provide a superior amenity to employees returning to the office.”