Nestlé® Confectionery has launched Aero Caramel flavour bubbles, the latest addition to its popular Aero Bubbles range, now rolling out across UK and Ireland stores.

The new variant combines smooth caramel-flavoured bubbles encased in a milk chocolate and caramel-flavoured shell, delivering the brand's signature light, bubbly texture with a rich caramel twist. Designed for sharing, the product targets social occasions and everyday treat moments for families and friends.

Commenting on the launch, Rachel Beaufoy, Marketing Manager for Nestlé® Confectionery, said the new flavour builds on strong consumer demand. "We're so pleased to be expanding our much-loved Aero Bubbles range with a flavour we know Aero fans adore. Aero Caramel flavour bubbles bring together our signature bubbly texture with a smooth caramel flavour, offering a bubbly, smooth treat that's perfect for sharing," she said, adding that the launch is an ideal way to start the year for chocolate lovers.

First created in 1935 in York, Aero is recognised as the original bubbly chocolate bar and has remained a firm favourite with consumers for over 90 years. The brand continues to be manufactured at Nestlé® UK & Ireland's York factory, maintaining its long-standing heritage.

Like all Aero chocolate products, the new Caramel flavour bubbles are made using milk sourced from First Milk farmers in southwest Scotland and Rainforest Alliance Certified cocoa, reinforcing Nestlé®'s commitment to responsible sourcing.

Aero Caramel flavour bubbles join Aero Bubbles Peppermint in the range and sit alongside the wider Aero portfolio. The new product is now available nationwide, further strengthening Aero's presence in the sharing chocolate segment.
