

Solid food safety at Trump-Kim Summit is responsibility of Singapore's AVA

11 June 2018 | News

Singapore . . . If Chair Donald J. Trump or North Korea's Supreme Leader Kim Jong Un desire some home base -cooking today wait for tomorrow's big summit, they'll have no problem finding plenty of American language and Korean food s in Singapore . And they can rest assured about food safety during their visit to the Republic of Singapore, the urban center -state of 5.6 trillion that gained Independence from Malaysia in 1965. Both President Trump and Leader Kim arrived in Singapore on Sunday for the Tuesday summit. That means both chief executives will be eating several repast under the authority of the Agri-Food & Veterinary Authority of Singapore or AVA.

Singapore is known for intellectual nourishment prophylactic thanks to AVA. It's achieved a good reputation even though Singapore must import over 90 percent of the food it consumes because the city -state has little farmland of its own and limited fishing grounds.

Singapore . If Chair Donald J. Trump or North Korea's Supreme Leader Kim Jong Un desire some home base -cooking today wait for tomorrow's big summit, they'll have no problem finding plenty of American language and Korean food s in Singapore . And they can rest assured about food safety during their visit to the Republic of Singapore, the urban center -state of 5.6 trillion that gained Independence from Malaysia in 1965. Both President Trump and Leader Kim arrived in Singapore on Sunday for the Tuesday summit. That means both chief executives will be eating several repast under the authority of the Agri-Food & Veterinary Authority of Singapore or AVA.

The metropolis state's food prophylactic agency has been around since before Singapore's independency . AVA currently administers a totality of nine statutes, namely, the Agri-Food and Veterinary surgeon Authority Enactment , the Animal and Birds Deed , the Control of Flora Bit , Endangered Mintage (Import and Export) Act, the Eating Clobber Act, Fisheries Act, the Sales event of Food Act, the Wholesome Meat and Fish Act, the Wild Animals and Birds Act, and their subsidiary legislation.

If Trump and Kim check with AVA, they will find the agency has some nutrient safety pointer to help them during their Singapore visit. These include:

- Buy your intellectual nourishment from established and reliable retail outlets.
- Always check the expiry date before buying food like Milk River and bread.
- Balk to make sure that cans are not dented, bloated or rusted.
- Curb packaged food
- Select halt food stored below the cargo assembly line of the freezer or chiller.

AVA is Singapore's national authority on food safety for both primary and processed food. It is charged with the safety of all food from production to just before retail. AVA uses a science-based risk analysis and management approach based on international standards to evaluate and ensure food safety.